This week's key question:

What makes a building special?

What a busy week we've had at Roby Mill! We have all been working hard on our new learning and really enjoyed lessons with our sports teachers and Mr Scott our music teacher. KS2 have been reading Michael Morpurgo's Pied Piper and have been thinking about sentence structures when writing. KS1 have been working hard in Geography learning the countries and capital cities in the UK. Reception have been listening to the Colour Monster book and discussing their feelings.

We have many jumpers and cardigans lying around each night after school. Many of these have no names. Can you please ensure that all clothing and bags are labelled clearly so we can give these out before the children come home.

Toast—Following on from the Dojo message on Tuesday a very kind parent has been able to offer a large amount of bread from Rathbones so we are able to continue offering free toast at break times for the foreseeable. Thank you very much to all those who offered to help. If any parents have sent snack money in this will be returned back to you.

Flu consent forms have been sent home with children, these need to be completed to say you would/would not like your child to have this immunisation and returned to school by Monday morning as these are being collected by the School Nurse.
